

MICHIEL CEULERS (* 1986, Waregem, Begien, lebt und arbeitet in Brüssel und Düsseldorf)

Michiel Ceulers is a contemporary artist from Waregem, Belgium, born in 1986. Although he is primarily recognized as a painter, Ceulers often identifies more with the term "bricoleur," emphasizing a hands-on, improvisational approach to his art. This self-description reflects his focus on the materiality and process of painting, rather than the final image alone. His works often explore the boundary between abstraction and mundane, figurative elements, emphasizing the importance of mistakes, failures, and accidents in the creative process.

Ceulers' paintings are known for their tactile surfaces and object-like qualities. He frequently sets up multiple works simultaneously, allowing them to interact, influence, or "contaminate" one another. This approach reflects his view of painting as part of a larger sequence of events, similar to the cascading effect of dominoes falling into place.

His artistic achievements include being awarded the Gaverprijs and being nominated for the Prix Jeune Peinture. Ceulers' work has been exhibited internationally at prestigious venues such as the Museum of Contemporary Art in Santa Barbara, M HKA in Antwerp, the Museo de Arte Contemporáneo in Castilla y León, Kunstmuseum Den Haag, and Kunstmuseum Stuttgart.
